GRANTS WORKSHOP

Preparing a One-Page Concept Paper
Please join us to hear two deans’ perspectives on how you can develop a grants concept paper that makes a compelling case for your ideas and is competitive within the internal vetting process.

Presenters:
Dean Pamela Brown,
School of Arts and Sciences
and
Dean Robin Bargar,
School of Technology and Design

DATE: Thursday, March 24, 2009
VENUE: Faculty Lounge, Atrium 632
TIME: 2:30 p.m.

The one-page concept paper is an efficient means of making your grant ideas known, so that when grant opportunities arise, we know who is interested in what kinds of projects. The Grants Office solicits concept papers prior to proposal development in order to create a level playing field for faculty by encouraging more faculty members to come forward with their best ideas. These short proposal concepts can be compared with one another and the deans can then identify those projects that are most closely aligned with strategic institutional directions.
