

Telling Medical Stories

Dr. Rita Charon

Will discuss how electronic developments in the health care fields relate to the ways that doctors and nurses think about and tell stories about their patients.

Rita Charon, MD, PhD, is Professor of Clinical Medicine and Director of the Program in Narrative Medicine at Columbia University. A general internist with a primary care practice at Presbyterian Hospital, Dr. Charon took a PhD in English when she realized the centrality of storytelling and listening to medical professionals.

Nov. 21, 2014
Noon - 1:30pm
Presidents Conference
Room, Namm 318

If possible please RSVP to Geoff Zylstra
gzylstra@citytech.cuny.edu

Sponsored by the NEH Making Connections Program
&
School of Professional Studies