What is Computational Thinking?

Innovations in STEM Education

DATE: Friday, February 4, 2011
TIME: 11:00 am - 12:15 pm
VENUE: Atrium Amphitheater

RSVP to facultycommons@citytech.cuny.edu

Discussion is open to all City Tech faculty and students.

Speaker:

Jeannette Wing, PhD
President's Professor of Computer Science, Computer Science Department, Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, PA

Why is computational thinking a fundamental skill for everyone, not just for computer scientists?

How will human thinking be affected by “smart” machines?

Sponsored by I-Cubed, C-PATH, ADVANCE Projects at City Tech, supported by the National Science Foundation

NEW YORK CITY COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY WHERE CAN TECHNOLOGY TAKE YOU?