

Social Science Faculty Lecture Series

When: Thursday November 13th at 1 pm

Where: Namm 601A

Light refreshments will be served

You are invited to a Faculty Lecture from one of Social Science's newest faculty members.

Come and support our faculty!

Lecture Title

"Cholera, Colonialism, and Pilgrimage: Global/Local exchange in the Central Egyptian Delta 1848-1907"

By Stephanie Boyle

*Stephanie earned her Ph.D. in History at Northeastern University in 2013. Her current research project, Umm al-Dunya: The Making of Modern Egypt, explores the relationship between the Egyptian state and its people from 1798 to the present.*