

New York City College of Technology

Professional Development Advisory Council

The Teaching Portfolio Workshop

The Professional Development Advisory Council (PDAC) will sponsor a three-day hands-on workshop for full-time faculty who will have the opportunity to work with Professor Janet Liou-Mark to create their Teaching Portfolios. City Tech's Teaching Portfolio Workshop- based on the Peter Seldin model- is a dynamic, personal and goal-setting opportunity to challenge assumptions, provide a framework for reflection, and offer guidance about the process of teaching and learning in a collegial setting.

As a follow up for the workshop, Professors Gwen Cohen-Brown and Paul King, seasoned mentors in the Teaching Portfolio process, will be offering monthly one-on-one consultation sessions in Spring 2016.

The workshop is limited to 6 participants from across the college.

Workshop Highlights:

- Create a teaching portfolio which can be included in your PARSE
- Reflect on teaching philosophies; articulate your own philosophy
- Articulate your teaching methodologies
- Organize your teaching materials including assessment strategies
- Discuss how teaching in your discipline fosters concepts of General Education
- Design an e-faculty portfolio; contact OpenLab for assistance (optional)
- Consult with mentor- Professors Gwen Cohen-Brown or Paul King (RSVP required)

Questions: Please contact Julia Jordan, jjordan@citytech.cuny.edu or 718.260.5637

Date/Times: January 5, 6 and 7, 2016 from 10:00 AM - 3:00 PM*

Workshop Leader: Professor Janet Liou-Mark

Location: Faculty Commons, Namm 227, Conference room

Lunch: *on your own / brown bag is welcome

Registration:
Required Please email: facultycommons@citytech.cuny.edu
First come, first served basis; participation limited.