

Holistic Engagement and Transformative Teaching: A Workshop for Educators, Social Workers, and Human Service Professionals

Date: Monday, April 18, 2016

Time: 3:00-5:00 pm

Location: City University of New York/CityTech,
The Atrium, 300 Jay Street, Brooklyn, NY 11217
Off the Jay St/MetroTech (A/C/F/R)
Metro Station - Downtown Brooklyn

This teach-in on transformative practice and whole self engagement convenes the editors and authors of a new book called, Holistic Engagement: Transformative Social Work Education in the 21st Century (Oxford Press, 2016). It introduces a new framework for using the bio-psycho-social-spiritual self toward a goal of participatory, democratic, and transformative social work education and practice. Participants will hear about the experiences of the educators/practitioners on the panel and will have the opportunity to engage in self-assessment related to their own capabilities for holistic and transformative teaching and practice.