Open Pedagogy: Access beyond the ADA
Thursday 9/19   4:30 PM - 6:00 PM   N227

As the Americans with Disabilities Act approaches its 30-year anniversary, participants will discuss some of the successes and limitations of the ADA, start applying disability justice concepts to their own understandings of access, and consider broadening how we address access at the University.

Open Pedagogy: Access Pedagogy
Thursday 11/7   4:30 PM - 6:00 PM   N227

How do we make ourselves accessible as teachers? What does an accessible syllabus look like? To what extent are our classrooms accessible? Join colleagues to consider how we can increase access in our pedagogical practices in and out of the classroom, on and offline.

*Refreshments will be served.
Part-time faculty are eligible to receive a stipend for participation.
