

Faculty Fellowship Publication Program (FFPP)

Call for Proposals 2020-2021

The Faculty Fellowship Publication Program (FFPP) advances CUNY's institutional commitment to diversity. Sponsored by the Office of Recruitment and Diversity, this University-wide initiative assists full-time untenured CUNY faculty (assistant professors) in the design and execution of writing projects essential to progress toward tenure. These projects may include research-based scholarly articles for juried journals, books for academic presses and creative writing projects. This signature program provides three credit hours of course release for the spring semester, a writing group, and the guidance of a senior faculty member. Proposals on structural and systemic inequality are encouraged.

Application Deadline October 30, 2020

FOR MORE INFORMATION

<http://www2.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/hr/recruitment-diversity/innovative-inclusive-programming/faculty-fellowship-publication-program/>

FACULTY TESTIMONIALS

"My experience with FFPP was by far the best experience I've had at CUNY. This is a program that must continue to be funded and is an essential component of maintaining and producing the types of scholars and work the CUNY system deserves to see. I felt so supported by my fellow peers and my mentor. I even saw one of my articles accepted for publication during the semester!"

"FFPP's structure makes it very successful. Instead of only discussing with one mentor, the opportunity to share with other colleagues and have a discussion about the work makes the process very effective and prolific. There is no way a session does not yield comments that can improve a piece of writing! This is why I find the program so successful."

"I just wanted to say that FFPP rocks! I never felt so supported in my career until I participated in the program. And if there's one thing I'll remember forever in my career (and pass on to other scholars) is the wisdom I get from Shelly. Everything she said from day 1 to the workshop on April 12 is what we all need to hear to stay sane and be healthy in a what could be a cut-throat environment. She and other speakers (and of course mentors!!) exemplify what academia should be, a supportive community that excels in their research but is also humane in their approach. And the best thing of all is I get to know colleagues from across CUNY. You are all the best! I hope there can be more programs like this as we advance in our career at CUNY."