

Accessibility

Online course materials should be accessible to all students, including students with disabilities, in a timely manner. The following information highlights technical support.

Accessibility in Brightspace

Brightspace ALLY supports universal design for learning. To learn more about ALLY:

- View the short video on the AtoL Faculty Brightspace page, in Video Resource List for Faculty
- Watch for future AtoL workshops on the AtoL Workshops page and on your Brightspace homepage
- Contact AtoL help at atol@citytech.cuny.edu

Accessibility on the OpenLab

The OpenLab is designed to be accessible, following the latest Web Content Accessibility Guidelines. There faculty can find great resources applicable to any modality:

- The Accessibility section in OpenLab Help provides practical guidance for faculty on making their materials accessible
- The Library's self-paced Accessibility Module is another recommended resource
- Accessibility is addressed in OpenLab workshops, too
- Questions about accessibility? Come to an OpenLab Open Hour or contact the team at <mailto:openlab@citytech.cuny.edu>.
